How to Practice My Math Facts [@ least 15 minutes every day]

Independent Practice Strategy 1:

1. Focus on one set of facts at a time. For example if you're preparing for the addition test for your 9's facts, then only practice those flash cards.
2. As you're practicing, make two piles: flashcards you can answer without hesitation and flashcards where you pause before you answer.
3. Then practice only the flashcards that you find more challenging [the pause pile]. Practice as many times as needed to get rid of the pause before you answer.
4. When you feel confident with your facts, combine them with the facts that you did not hesitate with and then practice the whole pile again.
5. Repeat this process as many times as necessary until you do not hesitate before answering any of the facts.

Independent Practice Strategy 2:

1. Create your own fact test. Make sure to use the facts you find more challenging more often than the facts you are confident answering without hesitation.
2. Practice answering orally or written.
3. If you feel like you are starting to memorize the order of the answers, try taking the test in a different direction. [if you started with the first problem, going left to right; maybe try answering with the last problem first, going right to left]

Partner Practice Strategy [student/sibling/parent/other]:

1. Have someone quiz you on your flashcards. They can hold the cards up for you and as you answer they can create the two piles described in Independent Strategy #1 [answering with or without a pause].
